CLARIFICATIONS IN RELATIONS TO THE CALLING ATTENTION STATEMENT RE. CRISIS IN THE TEXTILE INDUSTRY

SHRI CHITTA BASU (West Bengal): Mr. Chairman, Sir, the hon. Minister made a statement day before yesterday regarding the crisis in the textile industry. I do not agree with the general tenor of that statement because it seeks to express or take a complacent view of the health of the textile industry in our country.

[The Deputy Chairman in the Chair]

As a matter of fact, Madam, all these sectors of the textile industry, namely handloom, powerloom and also the organised mills are in a state of acute crisis. This crisis is manifested in the shortfall in machine utilisation, loss of production and steep rise in unemployment. These are the manifestations of the crisis that has crept into the industry.

The hon. Minister has claimed that the production has increased. It may go up in certain areas. But I am referring to the handloom sector. I had recently been to Nagpur to attend a meeting of weavers and textile workers. I am told that there are 13,000 handlooms under the Maharashtra Rajya Hatmag Mahamandal in Nagpur. Of these, only 9,000 are reported to be now in operation. Look at the figure. There are 13,000 handlooms under the Maharashtra Raja Hatmag Mahamandal in Nagpur. Out of these 13,000 only 9,000 are reported to be in operation now. This is the picture of the actual state of affairs in the handloom sector.

*Expunged as ordered by the Chair.
